- Plan daily food preparation and organize mise en place before service.
- Inspect ingredients for freshness, quality, and correct storage; rotate stock using FIFO practices.
- Maintain cleanliness and sanitation of workstations, utensils, cooking equipment, and storage areas.
- Follow food safety practices, including safe food handling, temperature control, and prevention of cross-contamination.
- Assist with menu planning, recipe development, portion control, and presentation of dishes.
- Monitor ingredient usage, minimize food waste, and report stock shortages to the supervisor.
- Coordinate with kitchen assistants, stewards, service staff, and other chefs during busy service periods.
- Follow dietary requirements and communicate allergen-related information accurately.
- Support kitchen inventory, ordering, receiving supplies, and checking deliveries as assigned.

Must-Have Requirements

- At least 2 years of experience as a Chef, Cook, or Commis Chef in a restaurant, hotel, catering service, or similar kitchen.
- Practical cooking skills and knowledge of food preparation techniques.
- Understanding of food hygiene, sanitation, safe storage, and food safety procedures.
- Ability to follow recipes, measure ingredients, manage portions, and maintain consistent quality.
- Knowledge of stock rotation, basic inventory control, and minimizing food waste.
- Ability to work efficiently under pressure and manage time during meal service.
- Teamwork, communication, attention to detail, and willingness to follow kitchen procedures.

Nice-to-Have Requirements

- Culinary arts certificate, hotel management qualification, or relevant vocational training.
- Experience with menu costing, recipe standardization, and food cost control.
- Knowledge of multiple cuisines or specialized cooking methods.
- Experience with bulk cooking, buffet service, banquet preparation, or catering.
- Knowledge of food allergen procedures and dietary-specific meal preparation.
- Familiarity with kitchen inventory or point-of-sale systems.

Education and Training

A culinary arts, hotel management, or food production qualification is preferred. Equivalent hands-on kitchen experience may be considered.

Core Skills

Kitchen: Food preparation, cooking, seasoning, plating, portion control, menu execution, ingredient handling, stock rotation, inventory support, and kitchen sanitation.
Professional: Time management, teamwork, communication, adaptability, consistency, problem-solving, and attention to detail.

Selection Process
